RE: Hurricane Season

The Harwich Water Department has taken steps to ensure residents will have their water supply safe and readily available in the event of an emergency.

The HWD has bolstered all pump stations with generators that will provide a reserve power supply by automatically activating in the event of a power failure.

The HWD works in coordination with the Emergency Management and arranges to keep additional staff on overtime after shifts if necessary to minimize the impact of employees having difficulty getting to work and fully stocked chemicals and fuel levels to ensure ample supplies will be available during and after a state of emergency.

The Water Department has highly-skilled staff that is ready and able to handle a wide range of situations that may develop as a result of the storm. We want our customers to know that we are confident that whatever other challenges may arise, your water supply should remain intact.
